

Reds Continue Shelling Despite Cease Fire Talks

By JAMES CARY

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The United States has reassured Nationalist China there is no change in its policy of refusing to give ground in the face of continued Communist attacks on Quemoy and of demanding a cease-fire.

U.S. Ambassador Everett F. Drumright relayed this information from Secretary of State Dulles to President Chiang Kai-shek Thursday night.

Chiang's reaction was not disclosed but the Foreign Ministry rejected again today Dulles' suggestion for reducing Nationalist military strength on the offshore islands if the communists will stop shooting.

Thus the two governments held different policies on ending the Formosa Strait crisis, now in its 42nd day.

Communist Chinese guns encircling the Quemoy islands continued to batter away, firing 1,143 shells during the early morning hours.

But there was increasing belief the artillery blockade was losing its effectiveness as sea convoys and air drops kept on unloading supplies.

A massive increase in their size is expected soon with the help of U.S. equipment now being turned over to the Nationalists.

The supply situation is very much improved, said Rear Adm. Liu Hsiang-tu, Defense Ministry spokesman.

And Vice Adm. Roland N. Smoot, head of the U. S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command, said in an interview the Quemoy can now hold out indefinitely under present conditions.

Any enlargement of the offshore war would come from the Communists, not the Nationalists, Smoot said. The Nationalists recognize the importance of keeping the Communists tagged with the blame for aggression, he added.

Smoot said the Nationalists understood the world desire for a negotiated cease-fire and would accept one if it did not prejudice their sovereign rights. He did not define those rights.

Dulles' message seeking to reassure Chiang was sent after Chinese Nationalist officials expressed fears that American policy was shifting in a way that might prejudice Nationalist rights.

Operation to Remove a Surgical Needle

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP) — A woman was to undergo surgery today for removal of a surgical needle apparently left inside her after an abdominal operation 12 years ago.

Mrs. Olive Schull consulted a private physician about a stomach pain that had bothered her since 1946. He detected the needle lodged near the back of her abdominal wall.

Mrs. Schull said she was operated on at the base hospital in 1946 for removal of a ruptured cyst. She was the wife of an Air Force man at the time. They since have been divorced.

Deck Officers Strike in Third Day

NEW YORK (AP) — The strike of union deck officers against 20 American steamship firms entered its third day today, with more than 40 passenger liners and freighters tied up in ports from Boston to New Orleans.

Federal mediators had no luck in talks Thursday with representatives of the striking, 1,300-member Masters, Mates and Pilots Union and the employer's group, the American Merchant Marine Institute.

The companies affected operate about 310 vessels. All the ships face a tieup when they come into East and Gulf Coast ports. Tankers and foreign flag ships are not affected. Neither are the ships of several American companies which already signed contracts with the union.

The United States Line laid off 1,734 crewmen of its 53,000-ton liner United States and the smaller America.

The dispute involves vacation, pension, welfare and fringe benefits. Wages are not an issue.

John M. Franklin, president of the U.S. Lines, contended the union's demands were prohibitive, adding: "We're determined to fight it through."

Called to Fire Found Family Had Perished

CHICAGO (AP) — The sound of his wife's voice, gasping over the direct line to the station, summoned fireman William Hughes to the most heartbreaking blaze of his life Thursday.

But when he reached his fire-swept home in suburban Skokie, smoke was thwarted. Flames and smoke kept him from breaking through to the attic apartment where his wife and two of their children were trapped.

Overcome by smoke and nearly prostrate with grief, he was led away to the home of his minister, the Rev. Mr. Norman Roberts. Later, the bodies of Marilyn Hughes, 28, and their two sons, Ronald, 3, and Robert, 6 months, were recovered.

"Oh, my God, oh, my God," Hughes sobbed. "The other children?"

David, 6, and Jacqueline, 8, were at school, a minister told him.

Fire officials said Mrs. Hughes apparently died while attempting to rescue the sleeping children. Ronald was found cradled in her arms, and Robert tucked in a nearby crib.

But before she died, Mrs. Hughes managed to get to the phone and gasp out the alarm.

Foreign Policy Change Idea Played Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department pooh-poohed today a report that a meeting of Harvard faculty members with Secretary of State Dulles may have brought a seeming change in U.S. policy regarding Quemoy.

In comment on that report, published by the Boston Globe, a department spokesman insisted that in the first place there has been no change in U. S. policy. Consequently, he said, the meeting couldn't have influenced a change.

The spokesman also said there was nothing secret about the meeting—that Dulles, who went to Boston for a public address has scheduled in advance a meeting with faculty members and Robert Bowie, a former assistant secretary of state for policy planning.

A university spokesman said the meeting was not a consultation on foreign policy. He said it was one of a series of off-the-record seminars arranged by the Harvard Center for International Affairs for Fellows.

The spokesman said at such seminars a government official or other guest offers a statement which is followed by informal discussion.

The Globe in reference to the Saturday meeting, gave this account:

Number of Polio Cases Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of polio cases in the nation dropped last week indicating the 1958 peak may have been passed.

State Health Departments reported 288 cases compared with a revised total of 431 for the preceding week.

The 431 cases in the week ended Sept. 20 had been the high for the year. The second highest total of 387 was reported in the week ended Sept. 13.

In announcing the state reports today, the Public Health Service said all areas of the nation listed fewer cases last week as compared with the week before except the east north central and east south central states.

The reported paralytic cases last week totaled 178, down from a revised figure of 221 for the week before.

Michigan continued to lead the states with 130 new polio cases listed last week, up 30 from the previous week. However, 137 of these had their start in the week ended Sept. 13 and 19.

Illinois moved into second place among the states, listing 23 cases, Ohio, which had been second the week before with 46 cases, had a decline to 22 cases.

Smackover Boy Cited for Life Saving

SMACKOVER, Ark. (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Jerry Wayne Thompson of Smackover has been awarded the American Red Cross Certificate of Merit for saving a nine year old girl from drowning in floodwaters of Smackover Creek last April 28.

The girl is Dianne Dickey. The girl is Diane Dickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dickey.

She was being swept away by a rushing current when young Thompson went to her rescue. He was unable to swim ashore with her against the current but he held her head above the water while talking to calm her.

At his direction, other boys formed a human chain and pulled him and the little girl ashore.

In the rescue Jerry used swimming and lifesaving knowledge gained from Red Cross instruction.

The Certificate of Merit is the highest award given by the Red Cross. George Hill, Red Cross public relations representative in Arkansas, said Jerry is the 11th Arkansas to receive the honor since it was established in 1913.

Bruce Bennett Starts a Drive to Oust NAACP

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett yesterday barred plans for an all-out campaign against operations of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. He blamed the organization for the South's racial problems.

An NAACP official promptly charged the planned attack was a spectacular effort by Arkansas politicians to divert attention from their failure to solve the school integration dilemma here.

Bennett unveiled a six-point plan for hampering activities of the NAACP and said he had asked congressional delegations of 14 Southern states to join in what he termed a "Southern Plan for Peace."

Clarence A. Laws, Arkansas field secretary for the NAACP, said the Bennett plan undoubtedly would "shock decent, freedom-loving citizens everywhere."

Laws contended the state's political leaders had selected the NAACP as a "whipping boy" because they were perturbed about recent desegregation rulings of the U.S. Supreme Court.

He also declared they wanted to throw up a political smoke-screen to cover themselves "for having so miserably misinformed and misled the people of Arkansas in the school controversy."

Bennett's strategy calls for the withdrawal of federal tax deduction privileges for the NAACP, state pressure on the organization's attorneys, economic pressure and criminal prosecution of individuals allied with the NAACP cause.

He labelled the organization a "tool of the Kremlin."

Laws denied the NAACP had any ties with the Communist Party and said the organization had been praised by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The Negro official said all points in the Bennett plan would be "left for any action which NAACP attorneys deem necessary."

Meanwhile, the head of a newly formed private school corporation expressed a hope the city's white high school students could begin studies next week.

White and Negro pupils enrolled at Little Rock's four high schools have been on an enforced holiday. Gov. Orval E. Faubus shut the schools before they opened to forestall integration.

An explosion of some sort jarred buildings in this area about mid-afternoon yesterday and reports of the blast came in from surrounding areas.

This led to the theory that a jet plane cracked the sound barrier somewhere nearby.

At the Arkansas Livestock Show in the Herford division Ned Purtle and Son of Hope did right well with entries.

One third, two fourths, two fifths and one sixth place winner. In the Swine show Charles Sogier of Hope exhibited the winner in two classes and Gene Maxwell took second place in one class.

Incidentally with the high schools closed two Little Rock students have transferred to Hope High.

At Henderson State Teachers College the glass favorites were named in the annual Star contest and in the lunch is Don Bailey of Hope, a junior.

Other States Raising Funds for Little Rock

By THE ASSOCIATE PRESS

Fund drives to help Little Rock finance a private school plan are being pushed in Louisiana and Alabama.

At Montgomery, Ala., the Citizens Council announced yesterday it is conducting a fund-raising campaign and an official appealed to citizens of the state to "bear a proud share of this cost."

Three segregationist groups in the Baton Rouge, La., area will meet today to map plans for collecting donations for Little Rock. Goal of the Citizens Councils is $50,000.

Another organization, the Southern Gentlemen's Assn. of South Louisiana, will meet next week to decide whether to join in the fund campaign.

Whiteside Enters Plea of Innocent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Miami lawyer Thurman A. Whiteside pleaded innocent today to charges of corrupt influence, but his co-defendant, former Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Macks, did not appear for arraignment.

Mack's counsel told U.S. District Court the former commissioner, who resigned under fire of a congressional investigation, is under treatment in a Miami hospital.

Judge Burnita S. Matthews set Whiteside's trial for Jan. 6. She gave Justice Department attorneys a week to check up on Mack's physical condition.

Indictments against the two men grew out of the award of television channel 10 in Miami while Mack was a member of the commission. Mack acknowledged receiving financial favors from Whiteside, but both men denied any improper influence on Mack's official conduct.

Public Service Television, Inc., a subsidiary of National Airlines, was the successful applicant out of four contenders for the prized channel. Whiteside was backing public service.

Under court order, the commission is now reviewing the award.

Scene of the crash is about 25 miles south of Jacksonville.

Electron Currents Big Space Hazard

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet professor said today Sputnik III had shown that electron currents buzzing around the upper atmosphere were much fiercer than expected—but that space travelers should still get through them.

The professor, Valentin Krasovsky, in an interview broadcast by Moscow radio expressed disagreement with American theories that the currents emanated from the sun.

DeGaulle in Appeal to Algerians

By GEORGE MCARTHUR JR.

CONSTANTINE, Algeria (AP) — Premier De Gaulle today appealed to the Algerian rebels to halt their bloody insurrection and promised Algerians a new and better life—economically and politically.

But close ties with France must remain, he said.

De Gaulle charted a five-year program for bettering the living and working conditions of the eight million Moslems in Algeria. He promised them more and better jobs and housing, land distribution and greater educational opportunities.

He said elections will be held in Algeria within two months under the same conditions as in metropolitan France. And he declared flatly: "At least two-thirds of these representatives must be Moslems."

Until now, political representation in Algeria has been heavily in favor of the one million European residents of Algeria.

Speaking to 50,000 persons massed in a public square, De Gaulle made a dramatic appeal to the Algerian rebels whose insurrection is nearly four years old.

"Why kill? Why destroy? The duty is to build. Why hate? One should instead cooperate," he said.

"Stop these absurd combats and soon we will see hope bloom again everywhere on the land of Algeria. We will see the prisons empty and a future big enough for everybody—particularly for you yourselves—will open up."

General Motors and Union in 3-Year Pact

By CHARLES C. GAIN

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors and the United Auto Workers reached agreement on a three-year master contract Thursday night, but GM's vast industrial empire remained shut down today by a strike of its 250,000 UAW members.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther hailed the new national agreement as "good for the nation, good for the UAW and good for GM," but he cautioned that the country were authorized to remain on strike to back up local demands.

A company-wide walkout against GM preceded the new pact by 12 hours. Before that, there had been a rash of wildcat strikes.

The old contract ran out four months ago and tensions had mounted in recent weeks under no-contract operations.

A major complaint at local levels has been so-called wage inequities in GM plants—different pay for similarly classified jobs. The national agreement establishes a fund into which the company will pay half a cent hourly for each worker to narrow differences.

Both Reuther and GM Vice President Louis G. Sutton expressed hope the local grievances would be settled quickly, so GM could get into full production of 1959 cars and trucks.

Reuther told the GM locals to press for speedy settlement of differences and to return to work as soon as they are settled.

GM was the last of the automotive Big Three to agree with the UAW on a contract.

Ford settled Sept. 17 after a seven-hour strike. Chrysler settled Wednesday without a strike.

GM's settlement followed the pattern of the Ford-Chrysler pact. The three-year contract replacing the agreement that ran out May 24 provides GM workers will get between 24 and 30 cents hourly increase over the life of the pact.

Will Help Any Private School Undertaking

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus, defying the mandate of the U.S. Supreme Court, said today he would "never open the public schools as integrated institutions."

He indicated, as well, that he has considered what the federal government might do if he reopened the high schools, still refusing entrance to Negroes.

"The only recourse the federal government would have would be to send in marshals and the Army to forcibly eject teachers and students," Faubus said.

He made the statement at a news conference after having released a prepared note on his position.

It was Faubus' first news conference since last Monday when the Supreme Court said that "evasive schemes" to preserve segregation cannot be permitted.

Later, two U.S. Circuit Court Judges in Omaha nullified the lease signed by a private corporation with the Little Rock School Board taking over the buildings and facilities for private, segregated schools.

His prepared statement, contained the sentence: "The only question is whether the facilities can be used by the corporation, or not at all."

"A reporter asked what he meant by the phrase, 'for not at all.' 'I will never open the public schools as integrated institutions,' he replied.

He said the plan for private schools in Little Rock would succeed.

Once again, Faubus attacked the motives of the Federal courts in their rulings on segregated schools.

"It is a known fact to anyone who knows anything about politics that they are simply playing for a bloc of votes in the northern states," he said.

Pentagon Raps Unneeded Secrecy

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon swung a major blow at unneeded secrecy today.

It ordered declassification of almost all military documents stamped top secret, secret and confidential before Jan. 1, 1948. Some date back to World War I days or before. Many millions of outdated documents are affected.

The declassification order was signed by Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy last Saturday. It was leaked, and is due for formal announcement today.

The order also takes a preliminary jab at the continuing accumulation of classified papers. It orders the automatic downgrading, after a period of years, of documents labeled top secret.

Left for future action is a time-placed schedule that will remove all grades of secrecy from documents after they have been stored for a given number of years.

Specifically exempted from the mass declassification order are papers detailing U.S. and Allied war plans and almost everything connected with intelligence and counterintelligence.

Personnel and medical records also were excluded because their confidential nature is covered by numerous regulations, laws and customs that normally prevent the invasion of personal privacy.

AIMED AT MARS—This delicate device is a 1/20th scale model of a basic design for a vehicle that could make close-up studies of the planet Mars. Looking it over are the Boeing scientists who developed it, Richard D. White (standing) and Henry K. Hubert. The full-sized vehicle would be about 40 feet across, weigh 600 pounds and be assembled and launched from a satellite platform at least 400 miles above the earth. Taking power from the sun and propelled in space by continuous low thrust from an ion accelerator the unmanned explorer would take about three years to orbit Mars and return to its Earth-satellite launching place.

Russia Admits Resuming Nuclear Tests

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government said today it has resumed testing of its nuclear weapons because the United States and Britain have kept on with their test shots.

A special announcement made through the official Tass news agency declared the blame falls on the two Western powers since they did not follow suit when the Soviets announced suspension of test blasts six months ago.

"The Soviets, who would up a big series of experimental explosions before sweating off last spring, are known to have detonated four nuclear devices in a test area north of the Arctic Circle this week. The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced in Washington the detection of two detonations there Tuesday and two more Thursday."

Tass gave no details of the new tests.

It accused the United States and Britain of using the Soviet suspension "to secure the greatest possible military advantage for their side, thus ignoring the will of the peoples."

"This is evidenced," it said, "by the fact that precisely after March 31—that is the moment the Soviet Union suspended nuclear tests and called upon other countries to follow suit—the governments of the United States and the United Kingdom undertook the biggest ever series of tests of atomic and hydrogen weapons."

"The United States alone has set off about 40 nuclear shots during this period."

"Considering this, the Soviet government cannot allow the security interests of the Soviet state to suffer because of such actions of the United States and the United Kingdom."

"Tass is authorized to state that, although forced by the actions of the United States and Britain to resume its own nuclear tests, the Soviet Union will in the future continue its struggle for immediate and universal termination of such tests."

Talks are to begin among Soviet, British and American representatives at Geneva Oct. 31 to seek an agreement on suspending tests under adequate safeguards.

Mediator Sets Up Dock Union Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal mediator today arranged a meeting with officials of union dock officers whose strike has tied up much of East and Gulf Coast shipping.

The move was part of an effort to get talks going again between the union and operators of American passenger and cargo vessels.

Chapter XXIII

The next morning six of them went out to wash up as the cook-shack triangle sounded, and after they had eaten breakfast, they came back outside into unusually warm daylight.

Lane said, "Sheriff, you can borrow my mug and razor if you want to shave."

Cole shook his head. He looked toward the ranch house. He looked toward the corals. He seemed to be studying the foothills and the sunlit summits of Lame Steer Mountain.

He was standing about 25 feet from the cookshack door when Lane again approached him, asking, "How did you come out with Irma, Sheriff?"

The lawman cut a sideways look, his skin pale, his eyes sheened with malice. He squared around and dug thumb and forefinger into a vest pocket. He held out his cupped hand, showing Lane the ring Irma had been wearing.

"What did she say?"

"Said she loved you."

Lane knew the blow was coming, but Cole's fist traveled too fast for him to get out of the way. Struck on the jaw, he staggered back, arms flung wide.

"Hold it, Tom. I don't want to fight you."

Lane's words didn't penetrate the curtain of outrage and hatred that had enveloped Cole's brain. He advanced on Lane swinging both fists, and Lane knew he had to protect himself.

Each of them was wearing a six-gun, Cole's feral stare warned Lane that the lawman wasn't above using his gun. The lust to maim or kill was in Cole's eyes. Lane drove a blow into Cole's midsection. Breath gushing in an agonized grunt, Cole folded double. He came erect slogging at Lane's face. He missed a swing and then stiff-armed Lane on the brow with such force that the joints of Lane's neck pained.

Sucking breath noisily, Cole clenched with Lane and attempted to break him backward. Lane kept hitting him and saying, "Stop it, Tom."

Cole stepped away and brought a knee driving up at Lane's crotch. Lane pounded him on the temple and drove knuckles against Cole's mouth. Cole stepped away spluttering blood.

He hurled himself forward, getting an arm around Lane's neck and going to the ground with him.

They rolled over and over, digging at each other with spurs, thumbing at eyes. Cole got a hand loose and pulled his gun. He tried to beat Lane's head to a pulp. Lane caught a wrist, shoved it out of his way and landed a fist on Cole's chin. It knocked Cole groggy.

Cole groped for Lane's throat, grunting. He sounded disappointed and desperate.

Lane tore the fingers from his throat and found the lawman winded and tired, almost exhausted. He slugged Cole in the face and kept hitting him until Cole was still.

Lane went on hands and knees to his hat, aware now that Webster and the other hands had been shouting at him. Lane saw Irma and Fay. Irma's face was tragic. The sheriff was out cold. Lane saw at a glance, getting to his feet, and he said to Irma, "I didn't want to fight him. Why did you make me do it?" He headed for the bunkhouse, with the girl only staring at him.

Before he got there, he heard Tom Cole say, "Get away. I'm all right."

By the time Lane and Webster reached the Four-Arrow roundup wagon near the north line of Murdoch Mitchell's Quarter, Circle M spread, the inner sides of their Levi's legs, where they gripped the leather that curved around foam-soaked horsehide, were as wet as though rinsed in a water trough.

The Four-Arrow outfit had already made the morning circle and was branding calves, and the four-fine dust the ropers raised as they dragged the choked-down, bounding yearlings away from the howling cows seemed to hang in the air endlessly.

After the noon meal Lane himself helped catch and harness Schultz's four-horse chuckwagon team. Afterward the wrangler turned the saddle band loose to graze. Posting point, swing, flank and drag riders, the Four-Arrow foreman strung the herd out in regular trailing fashion through the low hills toward the north-east.

As far as grass was concerned, the land along the Quarter-Circle M—Twenty Springs road was the best spot on the range for holding a gather of cattle for any considerable length of time; yet the water there would present a problem. There was no shortage of water. Getting the steers to it was the hard part, and there would be lots of bog-pulling to do, Lane was thinking.

He and one of the vaqueros took the count. They rode to a rise of ground ahead of the lead steers and sat their saddles there while the herd passed. Lane used a tally string fastened to his saddle pommel. He had tied 10 knots in the string, and kept count by dropping a knot on each even hundred. The Mexican used 10 horse-shoe nails, passing a nail from hand to the other when marking a hundred head.

When the dust of the drags floated before them, the vaquero asked, "How many, Lane?"

"Seven head short of 3,000,"

"Yes," the vaquero said; "I myself count seven less."

Colonel Richards hadn't figured on there being even 2,500 head, so he was going to be pleased with this count.

of the contract GM followed Ford and Chrysler in giving the UAW concessions, including continuation of pay boosts if the cost of living continues to increase, an increase in supplemental unemployment pay and a severance pay plan to take care of workers who lose their jobs when plants are closed or moved.

GM had insisted right up to the time of the strike that it would not give the UAW any concessions above those on which the union agreed with Ford and Chrysler.

But in the settlement, Reuther obtained these additional gains:

1.—An end to the 7½ hour work day for some GM employees. Reuther said both Ford and Chrysler had abolished the short work day in the past two years.

2.—Five cent an hour premium pay base for workers scheduled to work seven consecutive days. The work previously had been done at straight time pay.

3.—A GM agreement to study what the UAW had called wage inequities, under which GM plants in the same geographical area paid different wage scales for the same type of work.

GM's average hourly wage is the highest in the industry—$2.62 as compared with $2.52 at Ford and $2.33 at Chrysler.

Faith Festival Attracts Many Notables

TYRONZA, Ark. (AP) — More than 2,000 notables in the fields of medicine, religion, business education and politics—plus just plain folks—attended a "Festival of Faith" here yesterday.

The Festival, sponsored by Dr. L. H. McDaniel of Tyronza, was a combination medical-inspirational meeting.

Speakers included Dr. Louis Orr of Orlando, Fla., president-elect of the American Medical Assn., who predicted that "people born 20 years from now can expect to live to be 75, a decade longer than the present life expectancy."

The meeting was held in a huge circus-like tent. Gov. Orval E. Faubus delivered a welcoming address devoting most of his 15-minute talk to praise of Arkansas for its progress in civic and economic development.

He passed off the current integration dispute with a brief comment, saying Arkansans "are as freedom loving as ever and now through democratic processes we seek to uphold the Constitution so it will not become a mere scrap of paper."

Apparently this referred to Faubus' oft-repeated avowal that he is fighting to maintain states rights in the integration dispute.

The program included a barbecue, band and other entertainment, and scientific and inspirational talks, with emphasis on medical topics.

Other speakers included Erle Cooke Jr. of Atlanta, former national commander of the American Legion, and Rabbi Martin M. Weitz of Atlantic City, Rabbi Weitz said those attending the Festival were taking part in "a day's journey into the realm of the inspirational."

The Festival awarded citations to five men for their contributions to medicine and service to humanity. They included Dr. Albert Schweizer of Lambarene French Equatorial Africa, who was not present.

Major Events at State Show Completed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Major events were completed in the Arkansas Livestock Exposition yesterday with the Guernsey judging.

Singley P. A. Royal, Guernsey bull owned by Singley Dairy of Little Rock, defended his title by winning senior champion honors.

Later the title was selected grand champion of the Guernsey show.

Bluff View Patriotic, owned by H. J. Wason of the Erwin Farms Company at Conway, was reserve grand champion and Single Piger mascot, another Singley bull, was junior champion.

Entries by youngsters will hold the show spotlight for the rest of the week, with today designated as 4-H Club Day and Saturday as FFA Day. Judging of all junior entries has been combined so that no distinction will be made between the two organizations.

Ann Harrison of Fayetteville showed the championship pen of light brothers in poultry competition yesterday. Raymond Higgins of Fort Smith bought the chickens at $10 a pound.

The championship pen of heavy brothers was shown by Doyle Woods of Bentonville and Roy Ryle of Springdale bought the lot at $8 a pound.

Bob Rush Will Start Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Rush, 32-year-old right-handed pitcher, was named today by Manager Fred Haney to pitch Saturday's third World Series game for the Milwaukee Braves against the New York Yankees.

Rush had a 100 win-loss record for the Braves in regular season play. Four of his 10 victories came in 1957. This will be his first World Series appearance although he has been in the majors 11 years. He started 20 games this year and completed 10.

DOROTHY DIX

If Boy's Not Ready, Hunt for New Steady

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I'm a secretary of 22, in love with a boy somewhat younger. Sometimes I think I've just drifted into a state resembling love, because I do have doubts about him. I've been ready to get married and settle down for a year, but Rob says he's not ready for marriage. At one time he gave me an engagement ring, but I returned it when I found out that he had no intention of selling a date. I've become very friendly with a man at my office who has asked for a date. Naturally I won't date both boys. Do you think I should make a final break with Rob, and go with the other man? — Amy.

Dear Amy: When a steady date states emphatically that he isn't ready for marriage, and doesn't know when he will be, it's your signal to give him the "get lost" treatment. Rob thinks he may be ready in five or six years. You have no assurance that when he does spread out the welcome mat for the wedding march you'll be his chosen partner. Rob seems like a lost cause, so if your office beau is interested, encourage him.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Recently I met Bob at a friends house. He's a sailor, 22, and has been divorced. I'm 18. He's awfully nice, and I'd love to write him when he goes away — as he asked me to — but I don't think mother would approve. She hasn't met him but I'm sure his age and previous marriage would prejudice her against him. I'd only write friendly letters. Do you think it would be all right? If I have your backing I'd be encouraged to tackle him. — Toni.

Dear Toni: It's hard for me to refuse a 16-year-old anything, but it really would be wiser never to begin a correspondence that might end in grief for you. Tell your mother about the incident and prove your maturity by telling her you've come to the conclusion it would be a foolish thing to start.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My husband left me a few months ago after we had been married only a year. He began an affair with the wife of his best friend, who also left her husband. When he does see me he says he'll come back some day when he's ready to settle down. I still love him and would gladly take him back. My family says I'd be foolish. Would I? — Olga H.

Dear Olga: Your husband is playing a game in which he can't lose — with the present setup. You're his anchor and he'll return when he pleases. He'll have affairs after affair, as each one peters out, he has a refuge from which he can take off again. He knows he'll never find a girl as complacent as you. If you have no pride in yourself and can accept this position, go to it. If you have any self respect at all, any hope of making a decent future for yourself, veto all possibility of your juvenile delinquent's returning.

President to Get Another Checkup

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower enters Walter Reed Army Hospital today for a general health checkup before embarking on a stepped-up political effort in behalf of Republican congressional candidates.

Apparently hale and high-spirited, Eisenhower expects to get a good report from the doctors on his release sometime Saturday. The President faces a fairly rigorous travel and speaking schedule starting next week. It includes a two-night stop in Denver, Colo., Oct. 18 and 19 — his first since he suffered a heart attack there three years ago.

Hays was the go-between last year who arranged the Newport conference between Faubus and President Eisenhower.

On another phase of his position with respect to Federal court orders, Faubus said:

"The Federal courts don't have the authority to say how state money is being spent."

Faubus said in his written statement he would assist private organizations—both white and Negro—to set up and operate private, segregated schools.

The Little Rock Private School Corp. is working to collect money, and find buildings and equipment, to establish private high schools for white children.

"I will support and assist the corporation," Faubus said.

Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the corporation, says his plan does not embrace a private school for Negro children.

"The matter of providing educational facilities for the Negro students has been mentioned," Faubus said. "I will assist the corporation or any other in providing education for Negroes as well as white. However, the corporation will require Negro teachers, facilities and funds for this purpose. It may be that the help of the NAACP (National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People) will be needed, as well as some of the funds being received by Daisy Bates and the money being spent for attorneys' fees."

Mrs. L. C. (Daisy) Bates is president of the Arkansas chapter of the NAACP.

Commenting on next Monday's hearing in St. Louis by the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals on the Little Rock case, Faubus said: "It appears that the only question to be passed upon is whether or not the court will allow the private school corporation to exercise its said yesterday a recent appeal for financial aid to the organization had brought a flood of donations.

The private school plan makes no provision for Negroes. Several Negro leaders said last night they considered the plan an attempt to "fool the people" and predicted it would collapse eventually.

A federal court has issued a restraining order against lease of public schools to the private corporation and an injunctive hearing is set for Monday.

Kenneth Coffelt, a Little Rock attorney, yesterday said he would appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court a lower court ruling upholding the legality of the law under which Faubus closed the schools.

The Pulaski County School District, which operates rural schools, stopped further transfer of students from the Little Rock School District. Officials said rural schools were overcrowded.

Some observers looked on Coffelt's decision to appeal a state court refusal to rule on the school closing law as a legal move that could give Faubus an out in the current federal-state deadlock.

If the state Supreme Court holds the law constitutional, Faubus could open the public schools without risking criticism from advocates of segregation.

More than 400 students from Little Rock's closed high schools have transferred out of the school district since the current dilemma began.

Before the transfers started, total enrollment at the schools was 3,698.

Pulaski County School Supt. L. F. Dunn said more than 250 Little Rock high school students were turned down during the past two days in their efforts to enroll at county high schools.

"Territorial flower of Alaska is the 'forget-me-not.'" legally acquired right to use the leased school properties."

Federal judges Monday issued a temporary order restraining anyone from leasing the Little Rock schools. The 8th Circuit Court has been asked to make this an injunction.

The Little Rock controversy settled into a lull while principals await the decision of court action in St. Louis.

Hope-Texarkana Meet Here

'Cats to Have Tough Time to Stay Unbeaten

The Hope Bobcats will be seeking a fourth victory of the season at 8 o'clock tonight when they take on the Texarkana Razorbacks at the Big 9 Conference in Hammond stadium.

Chances for a victory were much slimmer with the announcement earlier this week that halfback Eddie King will not see action because of a fractured foot and the other starting half, Johnny Graves, will probably see only limited action because of a bruised hip.

In top shape the Hope boys were rated about even with the first Razorbacks who have lost only to the powerful Texarkana, Texas. A victory for the Razorbacks and the odds favor them more as game time nears will stamp them as one of the state's best.

And the Parkers, snatching from the defeat last week, are at top strength and will be trying to break back into the win column. A loss to Hope would really mean loss of prestige.

Much depends tonight on the work of the Hope line which has limited opposition to 7 points this season. If the line can contain the fleet Parker backs, rated the states fastest, the Bobcats could come through. Give them two steps and they'll be gone, the Bobcats were told by scouts this week. The team spirit has been awfully high, indicating the boys will be out to take this one.

The weights are about the same as the lineup indicates:

Pitched Same Way, Declares Lew Burdette

By CHUCK CAPALDO
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "I pitched the same way against them as last year. Why should I change?" The speaker was the Milwaukee Braves' Lew Burdette and he was referring, of course, to his continued World Series mastery over the New York Yankees.

As they say in the West Virginia mining country where Burdette comes from, he whipped them for fair Thursday for the fourth consecutive time as Milwaukee won 12-5.

Only Left Gomez ever beat the same team four straight in World Series competition. He did it for the Yankees against the Giants in 1930-37.

Burdette laughs off suggestions that perhaps he has been using a secret weapon on the Yankees. "I honestly don't know why I beat them, or how for that matter," he said. "There's no reason that I know of."

He might have pointed out that the Yankees just don't seem to be able to cope with his assortment of breaking pitches—screwballs, sinkers and sliders—especially when he keeps them low, throwing strikes to get them out. Also might have mentioned his sharp control. He issued only one base on balls, an intentional one to Mickey Mantle in the first inning.

He preferred to dwell on the three-run homer he hit in the eighth, seven-run first inning, the Yankees' ninth-inning uprising and the room.

Burdette denied that he let up in the ninth when Casey Stengel's pitcher climbed him for four of their seven hits and three of their runs.

He let up intentionally, at any rate," he said. "I was just throwing strikes to get them out. I made 'em to good, I guess. They figured I better get them out. They were getting rather binding on me."

OPENING SHOT

Jim Mooty Has Quit the Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas Razorbacks yesterday lost halfback Jim Mooty of El Dorado, who quit the team for personal reasons.

Mooty, the leading ground gainer in the opening game against Baylor, had been a starter but was dropped to the third team this week and replaced by Fred Akers of Fayetteville.

Coach Frank Broyles had a "no comment" reply when newsmen asked him about Mooty. The Parkers continued to work hard on blocking in practice yesterday, and stressed passing at most equally.

Broyles said the Hogs were blocking "about half as well as required to win football games."

The Arkansas coach added that the Parker first unit line will be outweighed by the Texas Christian forwards, 15 pounds per man, when the two teams meet at Fort Worth Saturday.

He commented that TCU was certain to be fired up because of their 17-0 loss to Iowa last week, and because the clash with Arkansas is their conference opener.

Trainer Bill Ferrell said the Razorbacks were in good physical shape with the exception of fullback Billy Whitfield of Fayetteville who will be sidelined with a bruised leg muscle and will be replaced on the traveling team by Harold Horton of De Witt.

Guard Bill Gilbow of Fayetteville returned to the first team lineup after a bout with influenza.

Undeclared Teams Now Number 22

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Twenty-two Arkansas prep football teams take perfect records in the fourth week of play tonight.

At least two of them will fall from the list as North Little Rock and El Dorado finish 3-0 records at North Little Rock, while Fayetteville (3-0) and Marion (2-0) meet at Marion.

Besides these two, Little Rock (2-0) represents the Big Nine on the perfect record roll.

Missing for the first time in two years is Little Rock Central which absorbed a 42-0 defeat last week at Baton Rouge.

District 3B has four clubs on the roster and District 8A shows three.

There are five class AA teams with unblemished records: Fayetteville (3-0) in Region One, West Memphis and Jonesboro (both 2-0) in Region Two, Conway (3-0) in Region Three and Hope (3-0) in Region Four.

District 8A's three unbeaten are Hamburg and Fordyce (both 3-0) and Lake Village, victorious in its only outing.

Other perfect record class A clubs are Mansfield (3-0) in District Four, DeWitt and Marianna (both in District Six, and Gordon and Prescott (both 3-0) in District Seven.

District 5B boasts the club with the longest winning streak—Hot Springs Lakeside which is 3-0 for the year and which owns a 34-game string over three years.

Braves Now Big Favorites After Two Victories

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Two up and two to go. But there is not a Milwaukee Brave who thinks it will be easy.

Two down and four to go. But there is not a New York Yankee who thinks the situation is desperate.

That was the World Series picture today as the Braves and Yankees took a 24-hour breather after Lew Burdette's 13-5 conquest of the American League champions that gave Milwaukee a 2-0 edge in the series.

Despite their crushing defeat, matching the worst beating they had ever absorbed in series competition, the Yankees were confident they could turn the tables on the Braves, winning at least two out of the three in Yankee Stadium.

Manager Casey Stengel, who saw his left- and right-handed aces, Whitey Ford and Bob Turley, driven from the mound in two successive days, will rely on Don Larsen, another right-hander, Saturday.

Manager Fred Haney said his starting pitcher will be either Bob Rush or Juan Pizarro.

The guess here is that the third game pitcher will be Rush. The big right-hander gets the call over the young left-hander because of his greater experience. Rush had a 10-6 record during the season. Larsen was 9-6. The Yankees are 7-5 favorites.

The series odds, which now favor Milwaukee at 11-5, failed to dampen Stengel's faith.

"Sure, we're not in what I would call a rosy position," he said. "But this thing is not over by a long shot. Why, only two years ago, we lost the first two to Brooklyn. I seem to remember that we won it at the end, didn't we? There's no law that says we can't do it again. You just never know about those things until they happen. Then you know."

"Somebody ought to tell those guys not to get too cocky just because they beat us a couple of times. This club of mine has a way of coming back. I know we haven't looked so good but we might get to 'em pretty quick."

Stengel better not bank on the Braves becoming too cocky. Haney spoke for all of his players when he said: "It's far from over. All I'm looking forward to is Saturday's ball game. We'll play them one at a time. All right, so we're two in front. That's not because they can't win. But you can't become chesty. They can come back and win our ears back. You just got to play 'em one at a time."

Warren Spahn, who probably will pitch the fourth game Sunday, said he figured it will take six games for the Braves to repeat last year's triumph.

"These Yankees are tough," he said.

Perhaps the Yankee optimism was the result of their three-run ninth-inning outburst against Burdette.

He had a three-hitter and had retired 15 men in a row going into the last inning. Four straight hits, including home runs by Hank Bauer and Mickey Mantle, put him in real trouble for the only time since the first inning when the Yanks scored first and had the bases loaded before the first double play of the series pulled him out of it.

But Burdette dug up a little something extra in the ninth and three straight putouts followed the four hits.

Lew left the field as the first pitcher in 21 years to win four straight from the same team in World Series competition. Lefty Gomez, a Yankee great, did it back in 1930-37 against the New York Giants but he had relief help in one game, while Burdette's have all been complete jobs.

Burdette himself homered in the last half of the first to cap a record seven-run inning by the Braves that all but wrapped it up. He was the fifth pitcher to homer in a World Series and the first since Babe Ruth's did it for Cincinnati against Detroit in 1940.

Elston Howard, playing left field for the Yanks, crashed into the fence in a vain effort to pull down Burdette's home run.

Howard's replacement, Norm Siebern, got one of the seven hits off Burdette, who walked one and struck out five. Bauer had two hits and Mantle two. Mantle has now hit 11 homers in series play, second only to Babe Ruth's 15.

the state's longest winning streak—Hot Springs Lakeside which is 3-0 for the year and which owns a 34-game string over three years.

Carlisle (2-0) also represents in Region Five.

Wilson and Earle (both 2-0) and Marion and Crawfordsville (both 2-0) make District 5B the state's best from a perfect record standpoint.

Sparkman (3-0) in District Seven is the only other perfect record class B club.

Matter of FACT

The largest body of salt water in the Western Hemisphere, the Great Salt Lake in Utah, is the remnant of a once great inland sea. In prehistoric times this sea, which the geologists call Lake Bonneville, covered northwest Utah. James Bridger, a fur trapper, is believed to have been the first white man to see the lake, in the early 1840s.

Man Calmly Robs Bank of $5,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Asst. Vice President Monroe W. Long looked up from his desk at the Cheltenham National Bank and saw a tall slender man walk casually through the door.

The man was wearing white gloves and a checked lumberman's shirt. He had a white handkerchief tucked into his belt and a pistol in his hand.

It was five minutes before closing Wednesday. Some six customers were in the suburban bank. The man paid no attention to them. Without a word or a threatening gesture, he walked among the customers to the counter.

He vaulted the counter and walked into the cage of teller Anna Kirk. From his pocket he took a large paper bag, and, standing beside Mrs. Kirk, he started taking money from her cash drawer.

She pressed an alarm button. A bell clanged outside the building. The robber took no notice; never even looked up, she said. Outside, passers-by crowded excitedly around the bank door.

The man—about 30, Long said later—went to a second teller's cage, then to a third, each time filling his bag from the cash drawer never seeming to hurry.

Finally, he vaulted the counter again and only then did he quicken his pace. That seemed to arouse the customers. One of them threw a marble pen and pencil stand. It missed the robber by a foot, smashing the glass of the swinging door.

The robber pushed through the crowd on the sidewalk. They gave way. But Thomas Regan, 21, an electric company meter reader, ran toward the man as if to tackle him. A woman school crossing guard screamed: "He's got a gun. Don't bother him; some of the children might get hurt."

The robber hastened to a car parked at the curb, fumbled with the door lock, got in and drove off. He hadn't said a word. The car was found an hour later in a parking lot. It had been stolen, police said.

Later, after the FBI arrived, an agent said the robber got away with about $5,000.

Body of Missing Child Is Found

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP) — The body of 4-year-old Kenneth Scott, missing four days in Michigan's Upper Peninsula wilderness, was found today a mile from where the boy wandered into the woods.

A helicopter pilot from K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base at nearby Marquette spotted the child's body in heavy brush southeast of the hunting camp where he vanished Sunday.

A ground party recovered the body. Cause of death was not known immediately. The child was wearing only thin clothing. He had wandered off in near-freezing weather.

The tragic find ended a search that had drawn more than 1,500 police, volunteers and National Guardsmen into the bear-infested forest 30 miles east of Iron Mountain.

Nationalist Boat, 11 Aboard Missing

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A Chinese Nationalist flying boat carrying 11 persons, including four U. S. servicemen, was missing today on a flight from the offshore Matsu Islands.

The plane disappeared shortly before sunset Wednesday. Almost 24 hours later Nationalist search planes and two U. S. destroyers failed to find a trace. Officials speculated that the slow-flying plane had encountered bad weather. They said there was no sign of Communist fighters in the area.

The four U. S. military men aboard are connected with the U. S. military advisory team stationed on Matsu. Their names were withheld.

Nationalists Get a Few Jet Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said today that a few jet reconnaissance planes are being turned over to the Chinese Nationalists. The first of the planes—RB57s—may already be on Formosa, the department said.

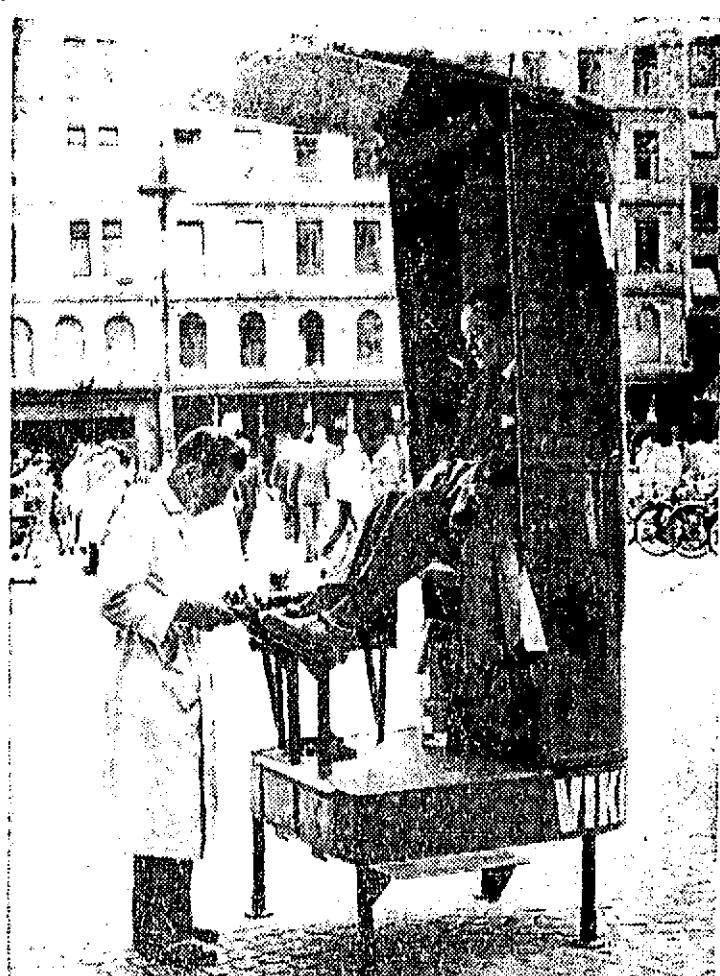

The RB57, known in the U. S. Air Force as the "Night Intruder" is the American version of the British Canberra light bomber. Its speed is more than 600 miles an hour and it has a range of over 2,000 miles.

Heretofore the Chinese Nationalists have depended for aerial reconnaissance largely on much slower moving piston engine aircraft because their limited number of jet fighters can rarely be spared for such tasks.

Pope Apparently Regains Voice

CASSEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Pius XII, apparently fully recovered from a slight loss of voice, held a special audience today and spoke a full 15 minutes. The pontiff granted an audience to 100 members of the Holy See's congregation of the Institute of the Oratory of St. Filippo Neri.

Valleau sources said the 82-year-old pontiff's brief ailment was a temporary loss of voice due to fatigue.

togetherness and accomplishment

The Community Accomplishment Contest means just that . . . working together to promote a higher standard of living, to better prepare for industrialization, and to stimulate planning and action toward meeting our community needs. These objectives call for teamwork and effort . . . that's our part. Work with our town for accomplishment.
